Mr. Nice Guy Jay Jones

There's nothing wrong with being a good guy, like Mark Powell. Mark considers himself just another student, who just happens to not be impressed with outrageous behavior. He doesn't mind being known as clean cut; he is comfortable with his beliefs and his instincts. When his girlfriend, Abbie, publicly dumps Mark in order to gain entrance to a 'prestigious' club with an increasingly bad reputation, he is targeted by their mean-spirited leader, Jeannie, for humiliation. One of the leaders of the club, Sarah, is attracted to him though. She secretly wants out of the club, and Mark helps her to realize that being a "nice guy" isn't so bad and that standing up for what you believe in is the price required.
