This book is based on formal research and evaluation strategy. We have gathered information from different types of iterative process that have been studied in the past i.e. Picard's iteration, Mann Iteration, Jungck Iteration etc. and have applied the same strategy of their study in a different iterative process i.e. Ishikawa Iteration. So, the book undergoes for an entire new field of fractal analysis i.e. Study of Ishikawa Iteration procedure and to generate its fractal images as well as to derive its fixed points.
