Bedtime Stories Z. Vega

"Bedtime Stories" is Z. Vega's second published collection of original poetry. Written over the course of 5 months, this work contains pieces about happiness, unusual places, beautiful people, broken promises, strife, attempts to understand those who are different, dreams, nature, love, and the inner workings of modern society. Although still very much told from her own perspective, Vega has tied her life together with those of friends, acquaintances, and complete strangers that she will never meet to create a work that is ultimately told through the eyes of several people, and entirely in the past tense - hence the title. Packed with crisp imagery and fueled by pure emotion, "Bedtime Stories" was written for the 7 billion who live on this planet, each and every one of them.
