Mama, don't you love me enough to obey this Jesus you talk about.: Taking responsible for your own behavior and sin. (Volume 1) Mrs Stephanie Anne Johnson

What do you mean,? If I give my life to you completely, you will give me the life you have for me? I asked the Holy Spirit with tears flowing from my eyes. Why can't I just go to church, pay tithes, put on a church mask and plaster a church smile on my face but still live just for me? I knew the answer before I even asked the question, in all the years I had heard the voice of the Lord, He had never let me take the path of least resistance. Everything He ever told me to do, from truly forgiving others, to obeying His word, even to the next direction He was taking my life, always seem so big and required such faith. I would always remind Him I can't do that, I would tell Him, the only way its getting done is if you do it through me. Then He would remind me, that's the way it's suppose to be done, I do it through you. This was the conversation I had with the Holy Spirit after, He unction my son to ask me a question about my behavior and the lifestyle I was living while calling myself a Christian. That was the day the Holy spirit revealed my sinful nature and my disobedience to the word of God. After I said yes Lord, I am responsible and repented, He then started the transformation of change. I share this journey with other men and women who want a personal relationship with the Father, the Son and The Holy Spirit. Men and women who are tired of just playing church and truly want to obey God. Men and women who are willing to examine themselves, and repent, So we can go on into spiritual maturity.
